I think Minister wants to do this before he goes to Paris. It will feed into the whole "who pays for Water, Insulation" debate...i.e. NPRF, direct spend or private sector (Siemens)

What do you think getting slot ?

Stephen,

Following our conversation on Friday, I have discussed these topics with Werner and Paul Lynam (CFO Siemens Ltd) over the weekend.

Werner is travelling over the next two weeks, but we are anxious to go ahead with a preliminary discussion with Minister Ryan. Can you please see if Minister Ryan has time towards the back end of this week or early next week to meet with Paul Lynam, myself and my colleague Domhnall Carroll who is specifically focussed on Energy Efficiency in Buildings. I will raise the topic of Water Metering. There is a third area of interest which is Energy Efficient Public Lighting.

Please let me know what you can organise and liaise with Janet Downey who is copied..

With kind regards
